SHANKSVILLE, PENNSYLVANIA

Foreword

Memories of the 1964-1965 school year will be memories of our friends and their companionship, the mock elections, grueling final exams, the excitement of close-scoring ball games, cafeteria table-talk, and the report cards that weren't quite what Mother had hoped they'd be.

Our memories include the first time out in the driver ed. car, the midnight cram sessions, the science projects completed at the last minute, the inspiring music of the band and chorus, and the relief to hear that the plays and concerts had been a success.

Also, we will remember the hurried decorating for the dances, the fun at play practice, the satisfaction of exploring new ideas and knowledge, and the opportunities and experiences that this year has given us.

Should a face be forgotten or a memory grow dim, we hope that by turning the pages of this Chicahonian you may recall once again the bittersweet memories of your school days.

JAMES A. BROWN

THE CLASS OF 1965 DEDICATES THIS YEARBOOK TO JAMES A. BROWN; FRIEND, CONFIDANT, TEACHER. HIS VITALITY, ENTHUSIASM, AND INTELLECT HAVE EARNED OUR LOYALTY AND RESPECT. THIS DEDICATION EXPRESSES, IN A SMALL WAY, APPRECIATION FOR HIS GUIDANCE AND UNDERSTANDING. HE HAS HELPED US BECOME BETTER STUDENTS — BETTER CITIZENS.

It has been said that music is the universal language, and so it is in our small community; for 'though our interests be many and varied, it is music that stills the winds of differences, and leaves not bleak dunes and deep depressions, but smooth sands of harmony.

Appreciation

A tune is more lasting than the voice of the birds.
A song is more lasting than the riches of the world.

Congratulations Seniors:

Graduation is no longer a goal but a goal attained. You now have stepped through the door of opportunity into a world of reality; a world that needs you. Get busy; accept the challenge of the American way of life; be grateful for this priceless heritage; strive to prove yourself worthy of this trust.

Endeavor to make your life one of dignity and honor. Make the Golden Rule your rule and you will be a friend of all men. I wish you health, happiness, peace with God, and peace with man.

Dear Seniors:

"This above all; to thine own self be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man."

These words ring out today even as they did three hundred years ago.

Yesterday you took the first step for preparing yourself; today you are entering into a world that is competitive and demanding.

Compassion is the greatest human trait. Develop it and share it with others for what is spread upon the waters returns threefold. Use your abilities to the fullest extent and you will know joy and unsurpassed success.

Hey! You're going down the up stairs.

We left our footsteps behind us in the Elementary grades. We are just at the beginning of a strange and new life—changing classes, phys. ed., sports, blue slips, study halls . . . Progress is great. We're all for it!

Library Science Class

Who says 2+2=5?

Learning to use the library! Anticipating many future hours to be spent here in research, study, and just pleasure reading.

And then . . .

And now for our next selection: Beethoven's Symphony No. 5 in C Minor . . .

So that's how you spell "X"!

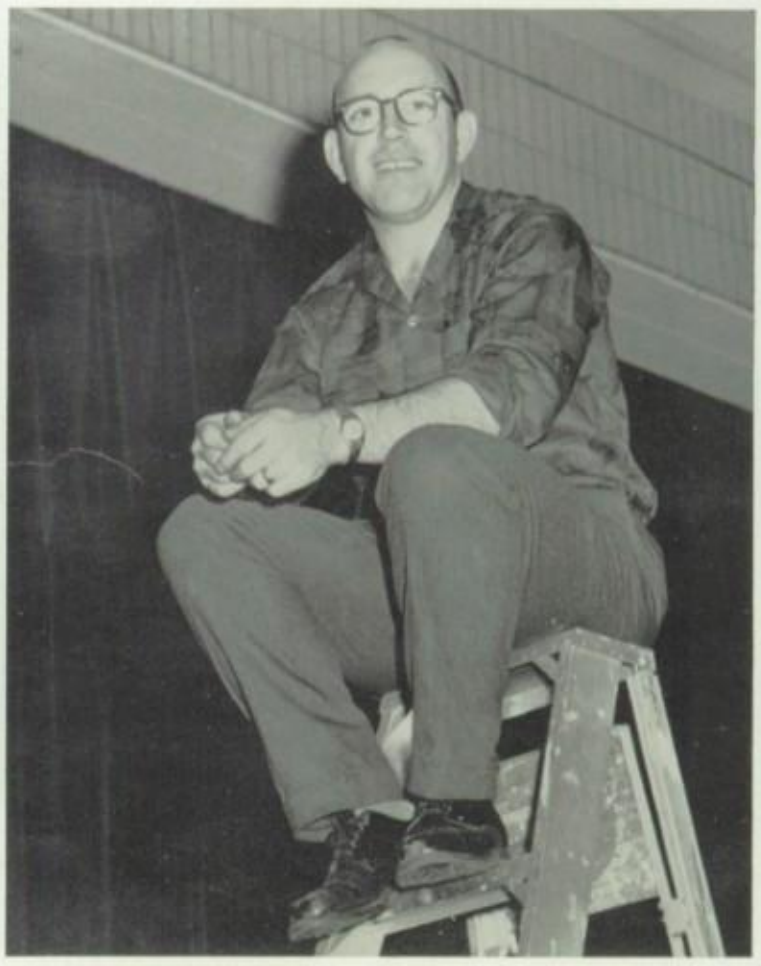
Dances—where the boys are?

Are you sure this song is in 3/4 time?



Herb Long:
The man of the hour.

All right now, men, let's straighten up that line!
